Ohio's High Court Decrees Mrs. Hahn Must Die in Chair

Dismisses Appeal of Convicted Cincinnati Poison Slayer

CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTION DENIED

Defense Hints Case May
Be Carried To U. S.
Supreme Court

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, April 13.—The Ohio
Supreme Court today dismissed the appeal of Anna Marie Hahn, convicted Cincinnati poison slayer, and sentenced her to die in the Ohio penitentiary electric chair
May 4.

The court held there was no debatable constitutional question involved in her appeal.

Mrs. Hahn had been scheduled to die March 10, but her appeal
from the supreme court automatically suspended the execution date.

The blonde, 31-year-old mother
was convicted of fatally poisoning Jacob Wagner, by a jury of 11
women and one man, last Nov. 6,
three months after her arrest.

Indicted In Gsellman Death

She also is under indictment on a charge of murder-by-poison in the death of George Gsellman, 67-year-old Cincinnati German.

Principal point of a 10-point appeal made by Mrs. Hahn's attorneys was that Trial Judge Charles Bellier in permitting Prosecutor
Dudley Miller Outcall to introduce evidence pertaining to deaths of others among her aged men acquaintances.

Outcall maintained the evidence was necessary to show she benefitted from the men's estates.

The decision of the court was unanimous except for the fact that Judge Arthur Day did not participate.

It was not a written opinion, the appeal being made on a motion for a new trial. The first district appellate court previously had upheld
the jury's verdict.

May Go To U. S. Court

Hiram C. Bolsinger, Jr., Mrs.
Hahn's chief counsel, had declared that if the Ohio Supreme Court renewed the woman a new trial the case would be carried to the U. S.
Supreme Court.

Mrs. Hahn's attorneys also may ask the state court to rehear the case and also would be required to seek the Ohio tribunal's permission to carry the appeal to the highest federal court.

If Mrs. Hahn loses her legal fight to escape being the first woman to die in Ohio's electric chair, she will appeal to Gov. Martin L.
Davy for commutation of her sentence to life imprisonment.

Governor Davy has stated on several occasions, however, that he was not inclined to interfere with the judgment of the courts in criminal cases.

"Tried For Four Deaths"

In demanding a new trial for
Mrs. Hahn, attorney Joseph H.
Hodgin contended before appellate court that she was, in effect, tried for the death of four men. He asserted that the prosecution was guilty of misconduct.

Outcall, opposing the new trial,
stated that the deaths were a series of events mutually dependent. He called Wagner's slaying a part of a "scheme to slay for money."

This so-called plan or scheme
had nothing more than imagination manufactured by the prosecutor, Hodgin maintained.

F.D.R. AND AIDS SPEED WORK ON RECOVERY PLAN

Program Apparently Is Agreed Upon at Night
Conference

CASH FOR PUBLIC WORKS KEYSTONE

Roosevelt Will Send Message To Congress
Tomorrow

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 13.—President Roosevelt and his economic advisers worked at top speed today
to complete a new recovery and relief program, apparently agreed upon at a lengthy night conference at the White House.

While the conferees did not disclose details, it was indicated the keynote probably would be a proposal to spend $1,500,000,000 on public works as a means of reviving
business and industry.

Relief In Addition

This would be in addition to a $1,250,000,000 relief appropriation, which would let the Works Progress Administration carry a peak load of unemployed from next July 1 to Feb. 1, 1939.

Both the public works and relief proposals were expected to be covered in a presidential message to congress tomorrow noon. Its first draft was gone over by the five cabinet members and three other administration officials at last night's three-hour meeting.

The President will have a final talk on the message with congressional leaders at 5 p. m.

Those invited were Barkley of Kentucky and Rayburn of Texas, Democratic leaders of senate and house, respectively; Chairman Glass (D-Va.) of the senate and house appropriations committees, and Senator Byrnes (D-S. C.) and Representatives Cannon (D-Mo.) and Woodrum (D-Va.) of those committees.

Touch Conditions Abroad

Official White House sources had discussed earlier that the message would discuss not only the state of affairs in the country but also touch on conditions abroad.

It probably will be followed tomorrow night by a 45-minute
"fireside chat" in which the President may explain to the nation his views on the general economic situation and the reasons for his new program.

FIRST QUARTER PERMITS HIGH

Building Figures Shown At $20,415 For Three Months

Building construction in Salem has boomed upward during the first three months of the year, building permit records at the office of Mayor George Harroff disclose.

According to past figures, the valuation of the present construction, which is $20,415, is far above the record of the corresponding period a year ago.

In addition, contractors and others of the building trades point out, new homes and house repairs are being made outside the city in many cases, and are not shown on the city's building permit receipts.

Permits for six new houses are included in the $20,415 total of permits for the first quarter. Ten permits were obtained for repairs and alterations to present structures. Another permit was for a gasoline service station, another for a repair to a greenhouse and three others for the erection of new garages.

Building permits issued within the past few days include one to R. B. Keslar as contractor for a $3,500 house to be constructed on Homewood ave., and one to Charles Shears for a $2,900 dwelling at 446 W. Sixth st.

R. C. Stirling has received permission to erect a garage at his residence, 996 Prospect st.

ing for one of the busiest sessions in recent years next week when three judicial departments are scheduled to convene at the same time.

term of court opens Monday. Confronting the grand jury is one of the largest criminal dockets in the court's history. The court of appeals will review eight cases while several civil actions have been assigned for the week.

The grand jury will deliberate on at least 40 cases, representatives of Prosecutor Karl Stouffer's office indicated Tuesday. They are expected to resume a gambling probe initiated last fall under instructions from Common Pleas Judge W. F.
Lones.

ALLIANCE CITY MUST CURTAIL ITS OPERATIONS

3,959 No, 1,252 Yes — Is Final Count On Five-
Mill Proposal

POLICE AND FIRE FORCES REDUCED

Bond Debt of $1,800,000
Principal Cause of Difficulties

ALLIANCE, April 13.—The city's curtailment program continued in force today after Alliance voters turned out yesterday to hand a proposed five-mill levy for two years
a stinging defeat.

The levy, which was proposed for general operating expenses, received less than a 25 per cent favorable vote. A 65 per cent majority vote was required to pass.

The Election Count

The summary of the special election was: No, 3,959; Yes, 1,252.

The total vote was exceptionally good for the special balloting, being only 1,000 less than the number of ballots cast for mayor a year ago.

City officials, who placed the curtailment program in effect April 1, had been awaiting the fate of the levy before acting on the financial course to be followed this year. The operating budget approved for the year was trimmed to balance with the estimated revenue.

Accordingly, the police and fire departments were cut to six men apiece, the parks closed and the hospital threatened with closing Nov. 1.

Normally the police and fire departments have 18 men each. It was indicated today that the men laid off will continue to be out of work. The city's parks will not be operated this summer.

Principal cause of the city's financial troubles is its bonded indebtedness which amounts to $1-800,000, it is explained.

The Alliance voters received a single ballot yesterday, although three of the five mills were intended for municipal operating expenses
and two mills for WPA projects.

Had the levy passed, the two mills
would have yielded an estimated $42,000 which would make possible projects amounting to $210,000.

BROOKS IS HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Sebring Motorist Pleads Not Guilty In Merle Kline Death

Roy Brooks, 23-year-old Sebring motorist, pleaded innocent in municipal court at Canton yesterday to a second degree manslaughter
charge preferred by Stark County Deputy Sheriff R. R. France as an aftermath of the automobile accident in which Merle Needham Kline, 30, of Salem, was fatally injured early Saturday morning.

Brooks waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the Stark county grand jury by Judge James A. Bowman. Bond will be determined in common pleas court.

The affidavit against Brooks alleges that Brooks was driving an auto in excess of reasonable speed
when it struck and injured the Salem youth.

Specifically, the affidavit charges that the Sebring man's car was traveling 50 miles an hour.

other month and are made pos-

CALL WITNESSES IN MARINO CASE

County Officials, Liver- pool Physicians, Testi- fy For State

LISBON, April 13.—Two Colum-biana county officials and two East Liverpool physicians will testify for the state when Solly Hart of Cleveland and two alleged accomplices are placed on trial in Youngstown for the murder of Roy (Happy) Marino, slain Mahoning county racketeer.

The officials are George Curran,
county detective, and Coroner Arnold Devan, both of whom were active in the investigation following the discovery of Marino's bullet riddled body on a highway near Rogers several months ago. Curran is expected to identify bullets taken from Marino's body.

Dr. Lear Costello and Dr. E. W.
Miskall, who presided at the autopsy in an East Liverpool morgue, will be asked to present their findings. The coroner will present related testimony.

Marino was killed September 7
and his body left near the Colum-biana county village. Hart, with John Anthouls, reputed Steubenville racketeer, and Herbert Ross of Cleveland, were separately indicted by the Mahoning county
grand jury in true bills secretly returned.

The victim was slain because of
"muscling in" tactics, authorities believe.

REV ROBERTSON LISTS SERVICES

Special Rites Planned at Episcopal Church for Maundy Thurs- day, Good Friday

Services for the Church of Our Savior tomorrow, Maundy Thursday, and Good Friday were listed today by Rev. Ian Robertson, rector.

Two outstanding rites will be held tomorrow. The celebration of the Holy Eucharist in commemoration of the institution of the Holy Communion will be held at 10 a. m., while at 7:45 p. m. the Office of Tenebrae, portraying the growing darkness of the earth at the time of Christ's crucifixion, will be observed.

The evening service, which acquires its name from the extinguishing of the lights in the church—"Tenebrae" or "Darkness"
—sets forth in Psalms and sacred scripture the desolation and abandonment which Jesus endured in His passion.

At the opening of the service, the lights in the nave, the sanctuary and the altar are aglow. A triangular candlestick with 14
candles, seven on each side, surrounds a white candle at the apex.
This is known as the Christ-candle
or Christ-light.

As the Psalms and lessons are read the candles are extinguished
as are the candles on the altar
during the singing of the benedidictus.

Visitors are welcomed at the service, which is one of the most impressive conducted by the church
during the observance of Holy Week.

Two services are also planned for Good Friday, one a children's rite at 10 a. m. and the other for adults from 12 noon to 3 p. m.

The latter service is known as the Three Hours of the Cross.

Persons who cannot attend the full three-hours are urged to attend a portion of the service and so pause in the day's work to think of Christ on the cross. There will be no evening service Friday.

On Saturday, Easter Even, Holy
Communion will be held at 10 a. m.
and Holy Baptism at 4 p. m.

Winona Will Hold Sunrise Services

A Sunrise service at 7 a. m. Sunday at the Winona M. E. church will open Easter day services.
A talk by a guest speaker and special music are planned.

Meet As Committee, May Take Action At Regu- lar Session

FIRE DEPARTMENT EQUIPMENT ASKED

Safety Committee Recom- mends Purchase of Ladder Truck

Action on the purchase of a ladder truck for the fire department and the proposed submission to the voters of a special levy at the primary election for a storm sewer project, was deferred until the April 19 meeting, when city council met as a committee of the whole Tuesday night.

Backed by the safety committee's recommendation, Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy last night presented plans for the new aerial equipment. The truck, designed so that one man can take it to and from the fire and operate the 65-foot aerial ladder without the assistance of other firemen, would cost about $13,500.

Several Proposals Received

Offers received from several firms manufacturing fire trucks were turned over to the councilmen by Chief Malloy. If purchased, the new apparatus could easily be housed at the fire station in city hall.

The plea for ladder equipment for the fire department was the aftermath of a blaze in a downtown building on March 2. Although the firemen were successful in checking the spread of the flames, they were handicapped by lack of proper ladder equipment to get at the heart of the fire, the chief has pointed out.

Council at its regular meeting next Tuesday night is expected to act favorably on the proposal to submit to the voting public a two-mill levy for three years as a means of securing the city's cost in a network of new storm water sewers.

Plans for the quarter-million dollar project were discussed generally by the councilmen last evening and explanations were made by City Engineer F. S. Barkhoff. Council is understood to be in favor of placing the levy on the ballots at the August primary.

Levy Would Raise $75,000

Councilman-at-Large A. P. Morris introduced the sewer proposal at council's last meeting. He is chairman of the sewers committee.

The levy, it is pointed out, would be the means of getting the city's share of expense in the project, amounting to about $75,000. Application would be made for a federal grant for the remainder.

City council next week also will name a new councilman-at-large to succeed Fred S. Smith, who tended his resignation a week ago.

"THIS TIME IT'S DIFFERENT"

Americans have their fingers crossed as the government prepares to begin another cycle of spending to induce recovery and, incidentally, higher treasury receipts to pay the bill. Like the Maine farmer who "was going down to Bangor to get drunk—and gosh how I dread it!" the people aren't going into the new spending spree wholeheartedly.

They can't forget the increase in the net public debt during five years of new deal pump priming has been 60 percent—and still no recovery and no budget balance.

They can't believe the experts implicitly when they say the new pump priming is going to be better than the old method because "this time it's different." The experts say they've had time to figure things out, but they were wrong once and they might be wrong again.

Some skeptics even wonder whether the prime motive behind more pump priming may not be political. It is explained that something has to be done, that the country can't just sit tight and wait for things to get better, but the fact remains that unless money can be put into circulation this year the elections next November will be bad news for new dealers.

It is said that those who have cold feet on more pump priming have nothing better to offer; their criticism isn't constructive. That is partly true. They have nothing to offer, except that to repeat an experiment which failed once and which, if it were to fail again, would bring a terrific letdown is questionable. They doubt honestly that a return to pump priming, even the latest method, is going to solve anything.

They believe, furthermore, that the same doubt exists in the minds of all pump primers who are not, also, as grinders for the idea that private capitalism should be broken down by concentrating economic power in the hands of government. These ax grinders are among the most enthusiastic pump primers. Their enthusiasm is far from reassuring.

Pump priming in 1936 is far from the simple, sure-fire proposition it seemed to be in 1933, when anything was worth trying once. The question today is: What's worth trying twice?

PUDDING

Eating the pudding's still a good way to find out how good it is. Take the Wagner act, upheld by the supreme court a year ago, April 12, in five cases covering all general phases of its application.

As the country masticates this law—the Republic Steel ruling is a pretty good sample—it finds these things are true.

The act and the labor relations board which administers it are operating in a field so crammed with controversies and unresolved issues that every application of the law is offensive to organizations and individuals whose rights are infringed on thereby.

Resistance to the act and the board is increasing, not decreasing, though the act has been in effect since July, 1935. Unlike the cases of other new deal laws upheld by the supreme court after they had been challenged, there is no evident disposition to make the best of the Wagner act.

JAIL

Circumstances gave newspapers two unusual jail stories Monday. In New York City, Richard Whitney, former stock exchange president, was sentenced to five to 10 years in Sing Sing for grand larceny. In Washington, Dr. Francis E. Townsend lost his appeal to the supreme court for a review of his conviction for contempt of a congressional committee.

Dr. Townsend, unless released by executive clemency, will serve 30 days. Mr. Whitney, convicted on a much graver charge, has no chance to escape serving his sentence. Yet, of neither man can it be said that society has a thing to gain from his incarceration, except observance of the letter of the law.

Dr. Townsend's contempt of the congressional committee which was badgering him made him a better, not a worse, citizen. Mr. Whitney's larceny, grave as it was, still was committed under circumstances which do not make him a likely repeater of that crime.

INDEPENDENT EMPLOYEES FIGHT NLRB RULING

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, April 13.—Counsel for two independent Republic Steel Corp. employees' organizations announced today they are "determined to contest" a National Labor Relations Board order for their dissolution and to seek exclusive bargaining rights.

The board found Republic guilty of unfair labor practices and ordered the company last week to reinstate approximately 3,000 employees who participated in the 1937 CIO "Little Steel" strike. The Steel Workers Organizing committee had filed the complaint.

The board also instructed Republic to abolish "the employee representation plan in five Ohio plants."

Wants Independent Status

"I have been instructed to take such steps as may be necessary to protect and maintain the independent status of the two organizations," said Frank T. Bow, counsel for an independent group in Republic plants and another in plants of corporation subsidiaries.

It has not been decided, Bow said, whether to file with the board of application for a rehearing or to petition the federal circuit court of appeals to intervene.

Bow claimed the two associations represent "practically all" of the 50,000 production workers employed by Republic and its subsidiaries. "The labor board ordered Inland

Yet, both must do a stretch in jail to confirm with a notion that both they and society stand to gain something thereby. What?

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, April 14

According to the lunar transits, this should be a day of excellent opportunity for reaching high goals of attainment and gratification. All elements of "big business" and important projects should prosper. Influential persons and those in power may offer substantial indorsement of meritorious propositions.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a year of splendid prospects of success, fulfilled ambitions and enhanced good fortunes. These may be attained through the friendly support of employers, superiors, partners and those in highly-influential political, financial or business power. Fraternal or secret co-operation may also provide much personal gratification.

A child born on this day may have many capabilities and qualities to insure its rapid rise in life, with the admiration and co-operation of those able to advance its interests, increase its fortunes and enhance its personal popularity and prestige.

DIABETES

It is only within recent years that the important relationship between infections and diabetes has been properly understood. At one time many of the serious and even fatal complications of diabetes occurred wholly because of the lack of attention to what seemed to be minor infections.

It is not long ago that it was quite common for diabetes to suffer from severe infections in the feet, demanding perhaps that the toes be amputated. This was not at all an unusual complication. Although diabetic gangrene, as it is called, is still encountered, it is not nearly as frequent as in former years.

The diabetic is extremely susceptible to infections. What would be a minor and trivial infection in one without diabetes may, if neglected, lead to a serious complication of the disease. For this reason diabetics should be instructed in the need for care of the feet and fingers. When reasonable precautions are taken, there is little danger of infection and this complication can be avoided.

Lists Instructions

According to a recent report from Bellevue hospital in New York City, certain instructions are given to all diabetic patients. These patients are warned about the care of the feet and advised as to their hygienic care. Let me tell you some of the rules that are given.

It is recommended that the diabetic soak his feet in a basin of warm, soapy water for five minutes every day. The parts should then be thoroughly dried with a Turkish towel. Care should be taken to dry the skin in between the toes. The feet should then be massaged with a little alcohol. This may be followed by massage with lanolin. Special attention should be given the soles and heels of the feet where callouses usually form. If a diabetic suffers from ringworm or from ingrown toenail, or other disturbances of the foot, it is well that the doctor be consulted. There is no doubt that if the patient takes care of his feet and reports to the doctor at the slightest signs of infection, many of the dangerous complications will be avoided.

Of course, this care is only part of the treatment for diabetes. In addition, the disease must be treated by diet and the administration of insulin. The diet and amount of insulin must be determined by the attending physician.

Farm Tenants' Home Funds Are Proposed

WASHINGTON, April 13.—An allotment of $336,491 in Ohio for federal aid to farm tenants in purchasing their homes was proposed Tuesday by the agricultural department.

The Farm Security Administration presented state figures during hearings before a house committee on the department's appropriations for 1939, requesting a total of nearly $15,000,000 for farm tenancy.

At the same time, a proposed allocation of $2,223 to Ohio for construction of forest roads and trails was outlined in published hearings of the house committee.

T. W. Norcross, chief of the forest service's division of engineering, presented the Ohio figure when asked by the committee to provide estimates showing apportionment to the states of a proposed $7,000,000 forest roads and trails fund.

Spending Plan to Be Fought

Vice President Garner, Speaker Bankhead and Senator Barkley

Plans for a gigantic $4,000,000,000 federal spending program to stimulate industry and agriculture were discussed by Democratic congressional leaders when they visited the White House, above. President Roosevelt asked his lieutenants, left to right, Vice President John Nance Garner, Speaker William Bankhead of the house, and Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, to give right-of-way to this "pump priming" project. Garner, however, was firm in his opposition to the plan and is expected to lead the fight against it in congress.

Melon Patch Raid Brings Action In Ohio Tribunal

Farmer Sets "Spring Gun" to Protect His Crops; His Rights Challenged By Victim

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 13.—Rights of a farmer to set a "spring-gun" to protect crops from marauders were argued before the state supreme court Tuesday to determine whether a Gallia county farmer should go to prison.

Arn Childers set a "spring-gun" in his watermelon patch in September, 1935. Previous raids had virtually destroyed his crop.

Daniel Wagner, 15-year-old Huntington, W. Va., boy, sprang the trap and received a shotgun charge in his body.

Childers was convicted of shooting with intent to wound. He asked the supreme court to reverse the conviction and to discharge him on the ground that no offense had been committed.

Attorney R. M. Switzer contended that Childers could not even be convicted of assault and battery. He insisted there was no malice in Childers act and, therefore, he was not guilty of an offense.

H. W. Cherrington, special prosecutor, contended that Childers' act was actuated by a spirit of malice and revenge.

"He was not protecting his property because that already had been destroyed," said Cherrington. "He placed the gun there to punish anyone who might enter his melon patch."

Switzer also attacked validity of the indictment because it had been amended by the prosecutor to charge "malice," which had been omitted from the original.

Childers, who is under sentence of one to 20 years imprisonment, was present during the arguments. The court took the case under advisement.

"Snow White and Seven Dwarfs" Opens Here Friday

"A scene from 'Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs' at the State Friday through Tuesday.

"Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," the sensational popular technicolor feature by Walt Disney, opens Friday at the State to play a five-day engagement. The film will conclude next Tuesday.

The State offers "Dangerous to Know" tonight and Thursday. Akim Tamiroff, whose performances in "The General Died at Dawn" and "The Buccaneer" won him wide acclaim, has his first starring role in the picture. Gail Patrick, Anna May Wong, Anthony Quinn and Lloyd Nolan have featured parts.

Losses Head and Life Tamiroff is seen in the role of a political ringmaster who loses his life when he loses his head over a society belle.

His love for two women at the same time proves Tamiroff's Waterloo. Although Miss Wong has been his lifelong friend and closest advisor, the political boss pushes her ruthlessly aside in order to pursue a beautiful member of the country club set with whom he falls in love.

The means taken by his cast-off friend to turn the tables on him and stop his career of plunder and murder from the climax of the story.

At the Grand tonight and Thursday is a double bill. In the first film, "Making the Headlines," Jack Holt is starred as Police Lieutenant Lewis Nagel, who is shipped off to the suburban town of Fairview when his gang-busting activities receive so much favorable publicity that the higher-ups in the police department are offended.

A good deal of this glory is hung on Nagel by his pal, Steve Withers, a reporter with a vivid imagination. Steve practically has been able to depend on Nagel for seven good stories a week, so he is quite as sad as Nagel when the two-fisted cop is exiled. As a matter of fact, Steve arranges on a pretext to have himself assigned to Fairview.

A Girl Comes to Town

The town is dead. The jail is dusty from lack of use. Nagel and Steve are bored. Then a girl comes to town on a visit. Steve falls for the girl, steals her necklace to make a story, and accidentally falls into a murder-mystery that Nagel has plenty of trouble to solve.

Hall has the role of an army captain, inventor of a new aircraft gun.

Rival foreign powers are battling for control of the formula for manufacture of the gun. Aided by Jane Wyman, Hall fights a lone battle against mysterious and ruthless enemies to win victory in the name of the United States, and retain the patent exclusive to American armed forces.

LEWIS HAS TIP FOR U. S. CHIEFS

Suggests "Well Planned Action" To Replace "Wishful Thinking"

WASHINGTON, April 13.—John L. Lewis told a meeting of CIO chiefs Tuesday the federal government should replace "wishful thinking" with "well planned action" to end the business recession.
"Unemployment has become the most serious problem in our national life today," Lewis said.
Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, made the statement at the first meeting of his union lieutenants since October. He has estimated the number of jobs at 13,000,000.
"A realistic remedy," Lewis said, "must be applied and applied now. Wishful thinking needs to be replaced by well-planned action. Jobs in private industry cannot be created merely by sitting and wishing there would be jobs."
"Such jobs can be created under the leadership of the federal government, if it will start the creation of purchasing power."
"It is time that the government face the facts of unemployment. Hand to mouth measures are not enough."
"A well-planned, long-time program needs to be envisioned—a program by which our nation will be enriched in times of depression when the government must provide jobs."
"The CIO and the unemployed do not want leaf-raking jobs. They want houses, slum clearance, schools, hospitals, flood control, education and sound recreation."

Friday, May 13, Date For Styers Hanging

WHEELING, W. Va., April 13.—Friday, May 13, was fixed today as the date for the hanging of Raymond Styers of Moundsville for the slaying of Mrs. Anna Bris in a Wheeling beer parlor in May, 1936.
Styers, recently denied a new trial by the state supreme court, was not in the court room to hear the sentence pronounced by Judge William B. Casey. Officers decided not to remove him from the penitentiary.

COUNTY COSTS SHOW INCREASE

Mahoning Auditor Shows Eight Per Cent Boost Over 1936

The cost of operating Mahoning county's governmental functions in 1937 increased more than eight per cent ($327,767.67) over 1936, the annual financial report of County Auditor John J. Arnold revealed today.
Spending was greater in most of the departments. Increases ranged from $1,000 to $72,000.
Repairs and insurance on the courthouse and county jail alone showed an increase of 350 per cent over the previous year.
Total county expenditures for the past two years were:
1937 $4,063,848.73
1936 $3,766,081.67
Total expenditures from all funds handled by the county, including undistributed tax funds, trust funds belonging to subdivisions, boards of education and health funds were:
1937 $12,923,816.82
1936 $12,040,243.58
County board of education and board of health funds are not controlled by the main county government but by independent boards.
Arnold's report revealed that last year the county's bonded debt was cut by $343,128 or about $22,150 more than in 1936, when it was cut only $320,978.
Total of receipts and balances for the two years were:
1937 $4,782,750.31
1936 $4,482,517.81
Fund balances at the end of 1937 were less than balances left over from the previous year. On Dec. 31, 1936, county funds totaled $716,438.14, while last year they totaled only $688,901.58.

"Show Must Go On"—And It Does as Boss Pulls Circus Ropes

NEW YORK, April 13.—Strike or no strike, "the greatest show on earth" must go on—and it did.
There were no peanuts or popcorn at last night's performance in Madison Square Garden as several hundred attendants quit the sawdust for the picket line, but tradition was preserved.
John Ringling North, 34-year-old "boss" of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus, tugged at ropes and guy wires, a circus lawyer pushed steel wagons, and clowns fetched and carried.
The strikers, members of the American Federation of Actors (AFL), walked out in a wage dispute a few minutes before the night performance was scheduled to start.
With an audience of more than 10,000 persons waiting, and virtually no one to do the technical work, North nevertheless ordered the assembly call blown.
Professional jealousy was forgotten as members of one bareback riding troupe acted as grooms for another.
Several spectators jumped from their seats to help—and were paid off in passes.

APPEAL NOTICE FILED BY ROGERS

States That Appeal Is Being Made On "Question of Law"

LISBON, April 13.—Formal notice of appeal was filed Tuesday afternoon by Attorneys Frank Hoover and Samuel Chertoff, counsel for Burl Rogers, now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for the murder of Clarence Dickey of East Liverpool.
The notice was filed with Clerk of Courts Carl Stacey and merely stated the appeal was being made on "questions of law." Those, it is believed, will include a charge of error on the part of the court in barring manslaughter or second degree verdicts in the jury charge.
A motion for a new trial filed shortly after the East Liverpool man was convicted was argued on the grounds of error but overruled. Judge W. F. Lones, who presided at the trial, instructed the jury to return one of three possible verdicts. These were murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree with recommendation of mercy, and acquittal. The jury voted for the second choice, making a life sentence without hope of pardon or parole, mandatory.

Rogers was indicted jointly with Dudley Adams and Clinton Daniels for the slaying which occurred Christmas day, 1935, during an early morning holdup. Both Rogers and Adams were convicted following trials here but Daniels was never apprehended.
The court of appeals convenes here April 18 but will not consider the case at the Lisbon session because of lack of time to prepare documentary work. County authorities said it might be reviewed at a later spring session elsewhere.

RAILROAD HELP TO BE DELAYED

Only Temporary Relief This Year Seen By Authorities

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Railroads will receive only temporary relief from congress this session, legislative leaders predicted today, adding that controversial details of rehabilitation would be left for another year.
Sentiment was so varied, they said, that it would be impossible to make more than a start on the task turned over to congress by President Roosevelt yesterday when he submitted recommendations of his special interstate commerce commission advisers.
"It isn't something that can be worked out in a month or two," said Chairman Wheeler (D-Mont) of the senate interstate commerce committee.
In sending the recommendations of Chairman Walter M. W. Sylvania of the I. C. C. and two commissioners, Mr. Roosevelt appended no specific suggestions of his own.
The report included proposals to lend $300,000,000 for the purchase of railroad equipment, to ease loan requirements, and to consider a special court to speed rail reorganization.
For a long-time program, the I. C. C. trio suggested creation of a transportation authority to eliminate waste and unwise competition, and broadening of the commission's power to encourage pooling of earnings or traffic.
Senator Wheeler suggested in a radio speech last night that railroads hopelessly in debt be allowed to go into receivership without being reprieved by "foolish" federal loans.

This farm is known as the Harvey Goodman farm and is located on the main road to Youngstown; about 4 miles from Salem. This farm has been in the owner's hands for a generation or more and the land has been well cared for. NEWS KEGLERS COP CLASS A BOWLING TITLE

WIN NATIONAL LEAGUE TITLE FOR 2ND TIME

Salem News Sweeps Last Match To Finish On Top In Loop

The championship of the city's top-ranking tenpin league—the National—rested safely with the Salem News team today.

The News, winner of the National loop title in the 1936-37 season, captured their second straight championship at the Masonic temple alleys last night as they swept all three games of a match with the Mollins.

The final victories gave the News a season's record of 61 wins as against 23 losses. The champions were in top form as they completed the season, hitting games of 953, 885 and 1004 for a 2842 total.

Captained by Clyde (Wink) Miller, the News team includes in its roster Jess Hays, Bill Finley, Jim Jackson, Forest Bishop and Ralph Gregg. Hays is the National loop's high average bowler with a mark of 194 for 81 league games.

Runner-up honors in the leagues remain undecided, pending the outcome of several postponed matches involving Bunn's Shoes and Mullins Foremen.

The Shoemen now hold second place in the loop standings with a record of 55 wins and 26 defeats, but they can be ousted from the position by Mullins' Foremen, who have nine postponed games to roll, three of these against Bunn's.

The Foremen are currently rated third in the standings with 48 wins and 27 losses. They will have to win all of their nine postponed games to take over sole possession of second place.

Young Democrats, who still have one postponed match to roll, finished in fourth place for the season. The postponed match will not affect the Democrats position. Their record now lists 47 wins and 34 setbacks.

Mullins Manufacturers, one of the first division teams in the 1936-37 season, fell to fifth place this season, winding up the 1937-38 campaign last night with a record of 39 wins and 45 losses.

The Bliss Co. team, which replaced Douth's Service Station late in the season, finished in sixth position while the Masons wound up in seventh place. Zimmerman's Oldsmobiles brought up the rear of the eight-team circuit.

Because the National league race throughout the season was mostly a four-team affair, involving the News, Bunn's, Mullins Foremen and the Young Democrats, plans are being made to revamp the circuit for next season in order to bring about a closer race.

The News held the lead throughout most of the campaign, although Bunn's Shoes set the pace early in the season and remained a threat until the finish. The Shoemen were only one game behind the Newsies up until last night when they dropped two out of three heats with Mullins Foremen.

Barney Ross No Sure Bet To Beat Henry Armstrong

By DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, April 13.—A lot of people went over to the Hippodrome recently, not with the idea of furnishing funds for the family of the late Charley Lynch, boxing judge, but to put the "business" on Henry Armstrong, the featherweight champion, headline of the benefit show. They saw the colored boy "bop" Lew Feldman, a lightweight, in the fifth and came away shaking a dubious head.

Armstrong, they said, wouldn't be worth a 3-1 bet against Barney Ross for the world's welterweight championship on May 26. I wonder.

Personally, I'd have to give Armstrong more chance than the average boxing man seems to, which is practically none. In the first place, he's young and Ross isn't, but the thing goes further than that. In fact, four or five times further, as follows:

Arguments against Ross—
1. He was dead on his feet against Garcia the last time he appeared publicly, which was many months ago.

2. He has almost stopped fighting altogether in the last year, whereas Armstrong has been busier than a bus boy.

3. He, Ross, may be and probably is thinking about retiring soon.

4. He has just been married.

Few fighters take on what is referred to as the "distractions" of matrimony and do well immediately thereafter. Fewer still contemplate retirement without a mental and moral relapse that leaves them vulnerable, even to a determined, well meaning sap, which Armstrong isn't. The first two points need no comment.

If Ross is in the process of going for a wash and he is fighting less and less with the waning years, that's almost ordained. Given a comfortable fortune, a man fights as often as he feels up to it, with the result that he arrives at the inevitable show-down that comes to every fighter, lacking both ability and sharpness. So much for what I see against Ross.

Here's what I see for him:
1. His size time strength, compared to that of a rival champion who is moving up two divisions to make the match.

BOWLING NEWS

Demonstrating their superiority over men bowlers once again, Abe's A. A. ladies defeated the Salem Polo club men's team, 2348 to 2162, in a special match at the Grate Recreation alleys last night.

Mrs. Ruth Hine led the ladies to the victory, combining games of 141, 210 and 162 for a 513 total.

Bliss Co. Keglers remained in the lead in the City Duckpin loop at the Grate lanes last night winning three games from Pottery No. 1. In other duckpin matches, the Colonial Billiards won three heats from Pottery No. 2 and Demings won three games from the Bulldogs on a forfeit.

2. Armstrong's style (which would have been an easy touch for the Ross who used to be fighting McLarrin).

On the size thing, I can only recall what happened when Johnny Kilbane, a great featherweight champion, met Benny Leonard, a great lightweight champion, over in Philadelphia 20 years ago when both were at the top of their careers. You'd think that a man with the speed, punch and all around class of Kilbane could last six no-decision rounds, even against Leonard. But the fact was that he couldn't, and didn't. They had to stop it to save Kilbane, and nobody was better pleased about that than John. It was the good-big-man against the good-little-man business all over again.

Armstrong's style, with feet spread and both hands down in punching position, is great against light hitters and those who have no great fancy for a punch on the snout. But it also constitutes a permanent invitation for anybody with gumption to distribute Henry's intellect all over the joint and, without even going into the championship lists, I have the perfect nominee, namely, Pedro Montanez with his short left hook.

Maybe you'll say there isn't much left of the constructive by this time, but I'll even argue with that. There is this left, in fact, and personally I consider it pretty important: Don't bet 3-1 on Ross.

Col. R. E. Middleton and Chase S. Donnell will represent the British Boxing Board of Control. The French, German and Hungarian Federations and the Scandinavian Union also will be represented. Paul Rousseau and William Ramey will defend the interests of the International Boxing Union, and Hiroshi Taharazama those of the Japanese Federation. The I. B. U. will represent all the South American Boxing Federations.

The forum's agenda is loaded down with many complicated problems. Admittedly if only half of them are satisfactorily settled, boxing will be the gainer and relationship between the various bodies considerably smoothed.

Some of the points which will come up for discussion are:

1. Reform of international relations which would include the formation of an International Boxing Federation to replace the various international and interstate (United States) federations, associations and unions.

2. Adoption of the New York State no-foul rule, which would compel all boxers competing under the jurisdiction of the affiliated members to wear a foul-proof cup such as used in New York and in most of the states under the control of the N. B. A.

3. Establishment at 15 rounds of three minutes each of all world title fights under the jurisdiction of the contemplated I. B. F.

4. A single world's boxing classification to replace the present incoherent system whereby each body names its own world's champion. Under the present system there are at times as many as three champions in the same class, none of whom is universally recognized.

5. A general discussion of amateur boxing with probability of various reforms.

The forum will continue from three days to a week. The meetings will be held at the Campidoglio, Rome's City Hall, and in the offices of the Mussolini Forum.

The congress will have its hands full in addition to the main business for there will be countless side conferences, many official and unofficial banquets, a number of excursions and the fun making which usually accompanies such gatherings.

WORLD FORUM WILL DISCUSS BOXING SNARL

National Bodies to Send Delegates to Rome Session April 19

ROME, April 13.—The world's most knotty boxing problems will be threshed out in an international boxing forum which will be held in Rome beginning April 19.

It has been called by the Italian government and invitations have been sent to most of the national boxing bodies. More than a score of nations are expected to be represented by their own representatives.

Edward J. Foster, executive secretary of the American National Boxing Association, Arch Ward, member of the Illinois Boxing Commission, and Gen. John Phelan, chairman of the New York State boxing Commission, have been designated by their respective bodies to represent American boxing in general at the forum.

Col. R. E. Middleton and Chase S. Donnell will represent the British Boxing Board of Control. The French, German and Hungarian Federations and the Scandinavian Union also will be represented. Paul Rousseau and William Ramey will defend the interests of the International Boxing Union, and Hiroshi Taharazama those of the Japanese Federation. The I. B. gene Roberts, a former state senator, already in the race. A meeting of Mahoning county Republican central committeemen is being taken over the question of the candidacy of County Republican Chairman William P. Barnum. Attorney Ralph Miller also is a prospective candidate.

County Auditor John J. Arnold, the only Republican office-holder left in the courthouse, has announced he will seek a fourth term. He will be opposed for the Republican nomination by George Jones, who has been in the auditor's office for several years.

Three Democrats in Race
Three already have petitions for the Democratic nomination for auditor, David S. Jones, William L. Sause and William Corrigan.

Seven persons have taken out petitions for county commissioner of the Democratic ticket to oppose County Commissioner Thomas A. Bees for the nomination. The late is Ferd Flood, prominent in veterans' organizations here. Only two are in the race for Republican nomination for commissioner so far.

Twenty-one persons are circulating petitions for nomination for state representative, six Republicans and 15 Democrats. The latest to take out petition blanks are Andrew Andrews Jr., of Campbell, and William W. of Youngstown, both Democrats.

The race for the two state senatorial positions is not yet hot with only two Democrats circulating petitions and with State Senators J. Ralph Seidner and Maurice W. Lipscher yet undecided as to whether they will again be candidates. Frank Mills Jr. and Gilbert Schumacher, regarded as likely Republican candidates, but neither has announced their candidacy.

FLOOD WARNING SERVICE LAUDED

Weather Bureau Chief Suggests More Funds For Broadcasting

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 13. — Dr. Willis R. Gregg, chief of the weather bureau, believes the loss of life and property from floods "could be materially reduced" if congress provided more funds for forecasting. "Recent great floods have demonstrated the extreme necessity for an expansion of flood warning service on all the principal streams of the nation," he told the house appropriations committee.

His testimony was made public today when the committee introduced the annual agriculture department appropriations bill.

Gregg said the weather bureau had been giving "valuable service" for many years on the lower reaches of the larger rivers.

"However, methods there used do not apply to conditions at the headwaters and on smaller basins where rainfall and other hydro-logic factors must be taken into account," he added.

"Awaiting the ultimate control of the nation's streams, also of life and the enormous flood damages now sustained throughout the country can be materially reduced if dependable and timely warning of an approaching flood is made available to those charged with evacuation and rehabilitations of inundated areas."
